

Thanakron Phothiyalai. (2016). The Development of Internal Quality Assurance System For Library and Information Technology Nakhonpathom Rajaphat University. NakhonPathom: Print Media Department, Academic Resource and Information Technology Center, Nakhon Pathom Rajabhat University.

Advisers: Associate Professor Chailerd Parisuttakoon, Assistant Professor Jittirat Sanglerduthai and Nipa Phonsongkor.

Keywords: The development of quality assurance systems for Academic Resource and Information Technology Center.

ABSTRACT

This research the purpose is to study the problem and develop quality assurance systems for Library and Information Technology Nakhonpathom Rajaphat University. The researchers used qualitative research methods. By collecting data from surveys and interviews with management and personnel, quality assurance of Library and Information Technology. To analyze and proposed the development of quality assurance and quality control. Quality Inspection and quality assessment.

The research found that

1. The issue of quality assurance system for Library and Information Technology Nakhonpathom Rajaphat University. Split into three areas: 1) the quality control and assurance management structure. The quality of education is not a separate task clearly. Most people do not care. And a negative attitude toward accreditation. Lack of participation. 2) Quality monitoring include lack of information and evidence in the preparation of self-assessment report. Lack of monitoring of performance indicators based on the quality of education. 3) The evaluation and assessment of the quality of education in the interpretation of diagnostic criteria. Evaluate different The report The quality of education within the same standard.

2. The development of quality assurance systems of Library and Information Technology Nakhonpathom Rajaphat University. Split into three areas: 1) Quality control and management responsibility for quality assurance in particular. Should determine workload Quality Assurance personnel to clear. Focused on the development and creation of a positive attitude. Quality education. 2) Quality monitoring system including the preparation of the self-assessment form part of the individual up respectively. Should the procedures and measures of operational 3) The evaluation should include a workshop Audit Quality Assessment on an ongoing basis. The indicator for the settlement. Build expertise and unique identifier.