

Sureerat Khlaisathaphorn. (2016). Using Online Database Of Graduate students In Nakhon Pathom Rajabhat University. Nakhon Pathom: Electronic Media Department, Academic Resource and Information Technology Center, Nakhon Pathom Rajabhat University.

Advisors: Assistant Professor Dr. Jittirat Sanglerduthai, Associate Professor Chailerd Parisuttakoon, Nucharee Boonsringam, Nipa Phonsongkor and Thara Junanu.

Keyword: Online Database, Graduate students of Nakhon Pathom Rajabhat University.

ABSTRACT

The purposes of this research were to study 1) The use of online databases 2) Analyze problems using online database and 3) Study ways to promote the use of online databases for graduate students by personalized features. The samples in the study, the graduate students of Nakhon Pathom Rajabhat University in the semester 2015. The samples amount 274, by random stratified proportional distribution of education. The instruments used in the study are questionnaires and Interview was in the study. The statistics used in the analysis by frequency, percentage, mean, standard deviation, and qualitative analysis.

The Results of Research Founded that

1. Conditions using an online database of research or theses possible.
2. Problems using an online database as a whole is moderate. In the networking computer.
3. Analytical approach to promote form available online database and the use of online databases in network / computer in the high level. And promoting the use of the database, training search, adding an online database providing a comprehensive teaching and troubleshooting network systems / computer database services online.